

I feel the Do Not Call list was an excellent idea that has improved my families overall way of life. If I am interested in finding out about a product, it's MY responsibility to go find out about it. I should not have products being forced down my thought when I am trying to feed my kids dinner.